■ New Titles For Windows Mobile

Microsoft Recite (free; www.microsoft.com) is a beta app that lets you record and search voice notes. When you want to find specific sections of audio notes, you speak keywords, and Recite's innovative feature will retrieve the portion of the recording. The beta version requires a Windows Mobile 6 or higher-based device, and currently, the software won't work with voice commands via a Bluetooth headset.

At Mobile World Congress 2009, Spb Software House announced Spb Mobile Shell 3.0 ($29.95; www.spbsoftwarehouse.com), an app that modifies the interface of Windows Mobile-based phones to keep the most important information on your Now Screen. The app includes 3D animations, touch scrolling, widgets, and new interface changes.
